INTRODUCTION

White Spire School is committed to creating a community which is based on respect, care and safety for all.

The DfE Guidance (April 2026) states:

All members of staff have the legal power to use reasonable force in certain circumstances. To prevent or stop a pupil from:

- Causing injury to themselves and others
- Committing a criminal offence
- Damaging property
- Prejudice discipline

Health, safety and the welfare is of a primary concern and, as such, White Spire School will take all reasonable steps to ensure the safety of the people in its community (see Health and Safety Policy).

Consequently, aggression by any member of the community towards another member will not be tolerated.

The use of reasonable force/restrictive intervention (team teach) is used when deemed necessary to reduce relevant risks. Staff will consider if it is reasonable, necessary, proportionate and in the best interest to pupil welfare.

Reasonable force

Reasonable force can be used to prevent pupils from hurting themselves or others, from damaging property, or from causing disorder

- in a school, force is used for two main purposes - to control pupils or to restrain them
- the decision on whether or not to physically intervene is down to the professional judgment of the staff member concerned and should always depend on the individual circumstances.

The following list is not exhaustive but provides some examples of situations where reasonable force can and cannot be used.

Schools can use reasonable force to:

- remove disruptive children from the classroom where they have refused to follow an instruction to do so;
- prevent a pupil behaving in a way that disrupts a school event or a school trip or visit;
- prevent a pupil leaving the classroom where allowing the pupil to leave would risk their safety or lead to behaviour that disrupts the behaviour of others; and
- prevent a pupil from attacking a member of staff or another pupil, or to stop a fight in the playground.

AIMS

- To encourage all members of the community to make positive choices and develop self-control.
- To support members of the community in difficult situations.
- To safely manage crises if and when they occur.

As a last resort, positive handling may need to be applied at times.

Who is authorised to use positive handling?

Designated, named, staff at White Spire School are authorised by the Head Teacher to use positive handling (team teach) under the following conditions:

Even as a last resort, the following criteria must be applied to the above circumstances:

- There must be good grounds to believe that immediate action is required.
- It must be a last resort.
- It must involve minimum force for a minimum amount of time.
- It must involve at least 2 members of staff
- It must be witnessed by other staff (where possible).
- It must only be used for care and control.
- It must not be used to force compliance alone.

REPORTING POSITIVE HANDLING

- Staff involved must inform the Head Teacher, Lead DSL or a member of the Senior Management Team in the Head Teacher's absence, as soon as practically possible.
- The incident must be logged on CPOMS.
- For guides, these incidents will be logged on CPOMS only. For restraints, incidents will be logged and recorded on CPOMS and the incident log book/bound and numbered book.
- A restraint must be recorded, within 24 hours, in the Incident Record Book/bound and numbered book kept in the Deputy Head Teacher's office
- A member of staff, usually a senior team member; will inform the parent(s)/carer(s) as soon as practically possible by phone/letter (Appendix A). The report must include the following:
 - time, date, location, approximate length of time force/team teach was used)
 - brief account of reasonable force used
 - details of any injuries sustained, if applicable
 - brief account of why use of force was assessed as necessary
- In the event of injury to staff or students, the relevant book/document should be filled in and a report sent to the Local Education Authority Health and Safety Officer.
- In the event of serious injury, relevant first aid should be administered and the person taken to casualty. If the injured person is a pupil, parent(s)/carer(s) should be contacted and asked to make their way to casualty as soon as possible.

- Complaints

The DfE guidance on reasonable force is:

Schools cannot use force as a punishment - it is always unlawful to use force as a punishment.

Allegations of abuse must be taken seriously, but schools should ensure they deal with allegations quickly in a fair and consistent way that provides effective protection for the child and supports the person who is the subject of the allegation. Every effort must be made to maintain confidentiality and guard against unwanted publicity while an allegation is being investigated. Suspension must not be used as an automatic response when an allegation has been reported.

The school's behaviour policy sets out the disciplinary action that will be taken against pupils who are found to have made malicious accusations against school staff.

The DfE guidance on reasonable force is:

- All members of school staff have a legal power to use reasonable force.
- This power applies to any member of staff at the school. It can also apply to people whom the head teacher has temporarily put in charge of pupils such as unpaid volunteers or parents accompanying students on a school organised visit.
- All complaints about the use of force should be thoroughly, speedily and appropriately investigated.
- Where a member of staff has acted within the law - that is, they have used reasonable force in order to prevent injury, damage to property or disorder - this will provide a defence to any criminal prosecution or other civil or public law action.
- When a complaint is made the onus is on the person making the complaint to prove that his/her allegations are true - it is not for the member of staff to show that he/she has acted reasonably.
- Suspension must not be an automatic response when a member of staff has been accused of using excessive force. Schools should refer to the "Dealing with Allegations of Abuse against Teachers and Other Staff" guidance where an allegation of using excessive force is made against a teacher. This guidance makes clear that a person must not be suspended automatically, or without careful thought.
- Schools must consider carefully whether the circumstances of the case warrant a person being suspended until the allegation is resolved or whether alternative arrangements are more appropriate.
- If a decision is taken to suspend a teacher, the school should ensure that the teacher has access to a named contact who can provide support.
- Governing bodies should always consider whether a teacher has acted within the law when reaching a decision on whether or not to take disciplinary action against the teacher.
- As employers, schools and local authorities have a duty of care towards their employees. It is important that schools provide appropriate pastoral care to any member of staff who is subject to a formal allegation following a use of force incident.

Four options are available to anyone wishing to make a complaint in relation to an incident regarding positive handling or restraint:

- A letter to the Head Teacher outlining the concerns; this to be answered within 7 working days of receipt (as according to our Parental Grievance Policy)
- A referral to Social Services via the Education Welfare Service.
- A complaint to the Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO)
- A complaint to the police after raising the complaint with the school

SEND and/or disabilities

All pupils at White Spire School have an EHCP. The school is set up to support pupils with individual needs and create a calm environment. The schoolwork's with key professionals, the pupil and parents to develop prevention and de-escalation. Whether the use of reasonable force and/or other restrictive intervention is appropriate will depend on the circumstances.

TRAINING

Designated staff receive training on a yearly basis from an accredited training provider. Currently this is Team Teach.

This Policy should be read in conjunction with:
